Double Your Money Warranty

The Proof is in the Performance

With our Double Your Money Warranty, you have a no-risk reason to make the upgrade to Continental ContiTech power transmission belts.

Belt after belt, year after year, our power transmission belts deliver a standard of quality that is simply unmatched by the competition. And now, we can prove it to you.

Install any Continental ContiTech power transmission belt. If it does not outlast the belt it replaced, we will give you double your money back. It is that simple.

The Double Your Money Warranty is part of our Drive Change program, a unique initiative to help our customers maximize productivity and efficiency in their plant operations.

We believe in our belts' ability to outperform the competition. And now, you can see for yourself.

Driving change, maximizing productivity

How our belt warranty works

We are so confident that Continental ContiTech belting, when properly installed, will outperform what you are now using that we will give you double your money back if our power transmission products do not meet your expectations.

Simply go to www.contitech.us to tell us you have a drive application that may be in need of a Continental ContiTech branded belt. Let us know your drive details and how long your present belt is lasting. We will in turn do a free drive analysis, recommend the proper tension and confirm your participation in the Double Your Money Warranty.

After the placement of your purchase order, your local distributor will deliver the recommended drive components and invoice you in the normal fashion. Continental ContiTech brand belts will outlast the belts they replace, or we will give you double what you paid for them. It is that simple. It is our way of demonstrating that Continental ContiTech brand drive products will give you more life per dollar than those you currently buy.

How Continental ContiTech's distributors can make this offer

There is no mystery about it. We have a better product and are willing to stand behind it all the way.

We combine the use of premium-grade materials, innovation in manufacturing and advanced techniques to produce the most consistent, high-quality belts in the industry today. Belt after belt, year after year, Continental ContiTech brand power transmission products deliver a standard of quality that is unmatched by the competition. But do not take our word for it. Try them on the job and see for yourself. They will outlast the belts you are using or double your money back. We guarantee it.

How to collect

We are confident it will not happen, but in the unlikely event the Continental ContiTech brand belt you try does not last longer than the one you have been using, simply return the used belt to the originating distributor.

We will ask the distributor to return the belt (and recommended components) to us for inspection. Once we receive the belt, we will verify the mode of failure, and assuming the drive analysis provisions were implemented, we will arrange for a refund through the distributor for double what you paid for the original belt and any other Continental ContiTech-specified drive components.
